An appreciated political figure: Jean Lassalle

HOW TO EXPLAIN THE FAME OF ONE OF THE MOST APPRECIATED POLITICIANS IN FRANCE?

Jean Lassalle is a French politician who took part in the 2017/2022 French elections, garnering 1.21% and 3.3% of the total votes respectively. He is associated with the “Résistons” party, which is positioned in the center-right of the political spectrum. He serves as the mayor of Lourdios Ichère and was a deputy in the National Assembly until 2022.

Throughout three presidential elections, he gained recognition through television appearances, social media, and radio podcasts, earning considerable acclaim. He has become such a prominent social media figure that people humorously refer to his candidacy as a bid for “being hip.”

Despite his sincere aspirations to become president, a considerable portion of the population did not take him seriously. The IFOP survey shows that among other politicians, French citizens would prefer to share a barbecue with Jean Lassalle, likely due to his friendly and genuine charisma, along with his regional expressions.

The Vendée Globe is back!

AFTER THE LEGENDARY 2020 EDITION,
THE GREATEST BOAT RACE IN THE WORLD IS BACK !

The Vendée Globe is a single-handed, non-stop, unassisted round-the-world yacht race, often dubbed the "Everest of the Seas". It's a supreme test of human endurance, sailing skill, and technological innovation. Let's delve into its history, the 2024 edition, and why it's so captivating.

The origins of the race date back to the 1968 Golden Globe Race, the first solo, non-stop circumnavigation. Inspired by this, Philippe Jeantot, a French sailor, envisioned a race without any stops. In 1989, the first Vendée Globe set sail from Les Sables-d'Olonne, France. Since then, it has become a legendary event, held every four years.

The yachts that are used are 60-foot IMOCA monohulls, cutting-edge vessels designed for speed and durability in the toughest conditions.

Everything is organised in these boats : From the food to clothes, to the rest space and the navigation board, maximum comfort is provided to the skipper. But that journey remains very difficult.

The Vendée Globe is back!

The race starts and finishes in Les Sables-d'Olonne. Boats head south through the Atlantic, past the Cape of Good Hope, into the Indian Ocean, around the notorious Cape Leeuwin, across the vast Pacific, around Cape Horn, and then back up the Atlantic to France.

Clarisse Crémer

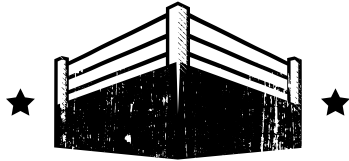

The 2024 edition features a diverse and talented field of skippers, each with their own story and motivations.

One of them is Clarisse Crémer, who grew up in Île-de-France and discovered sailing during family vacations, then in student regattas during her studies at HEC. Her meeting with the navigator Tanguy Le Turquais encouraged her to try the open sea experience. In 2020, she then sailed her first solo world tour: after 87 days at sea, she became the fastest woman in the history of the Vendée Globe. From the moment she arrives, Clarisse only aspires to one goal: to return to this legendary competition.

So that raises the question : Why follow the Vendée Globe ? In our opinion, it is an awe-inspiring sporting event, an unpredictable and dramatic race with neck to neck finishes. The boats are also more and more innovative every year, and the Vendée Globe is also a great way to raise environmental awareness about ocean health and sustainability.

Boxing

SARAH OURAHMOUNE WITHDRAWS HER CANDIDACY FROM BEING CO-PRESIDENT OF THE FRENCH BOXING FEDERATION

Because of the racist and sexist insults she received in the past few weeks, the boxer Sarah Ourahmoune, vice Olympic champion in 2016, officially withdrew her candidacy from being co-president of the French boxing federation. She announced it on her Instagram account on November 11, 2024.

“I have been the target of racist and sexist attacks. [...]. My decision to withdraw costs me enormously, because it seems to contradict everything I stand for on a daily basis.”

These slurs are absolutely unacceptable and they were shocking: She was called “the cleaning lady of the federation”, “...’s whore” or even “the service arab”. The 42 year old “would’ve never thought she would receive such insults because of her origins or just the fact that she is a woman”. Most of these insults actually come from a specialised forum supporting her rival Estelle Mossely, as stated in the newspaper “L’équipe”. Her rival actually encouraged her to sue these people and withdrew her candidacy as well.

Many people reacted to these incidents, such as Brahim Asloum, a retired Olympics winner who was absolutely shocked. He puts himself in the shoes of Sarah as he claims having the “same profile and origins” and “giving his heart and soul to represent his country”. Also, her co-candidate Dominique Nato encouraged her as well by glorifying her commitment to a united France and declared to “fight those who propagate hate and division.”

Table Tennis

THE LEBRUN BROTHERS STRIKE AGAIN !

Felix and Alexis Lebrun are officially the Fukoka World Table Tennis Champions (doubles) and ranked n°1 in the World thanks to their victory, which made them gain 1500 points in the International Table Tennis Federation ranking. A unique performance in the history of French table tennis.

The two brothers find it “absolutely incredible to be ranked higher than the Chinese, and showing the world that they can compete with them.” As most people know, Chinese people are the uncontested best table tennis players in the whole world, with 6 duos in the top 8.

The Lebruns are considered as some of the best French athletes, mainly thanks to their performance in the Olympic Games. Indeed, they brought the first French bronze medal in team table tennis and were given the “ordre national du mérite” by the president himself, which is such a great achievement at such a young age.

CINEMA

THE COUNT OF MONTE-CRISTO THE WILD ROBOT

The Count of Monte Cristo, released on May 28, 2024, is an adaptation of Alexandre Dumas' classic novel. The movie adaptation is directed by Alexandre De La Patellière and Mathieu Delaporte. The cast is composed of all-star actors, featuring Pierre Niney, Laurent Laffite, Anaïs Demoustier, Vassili Schneider, and many others.

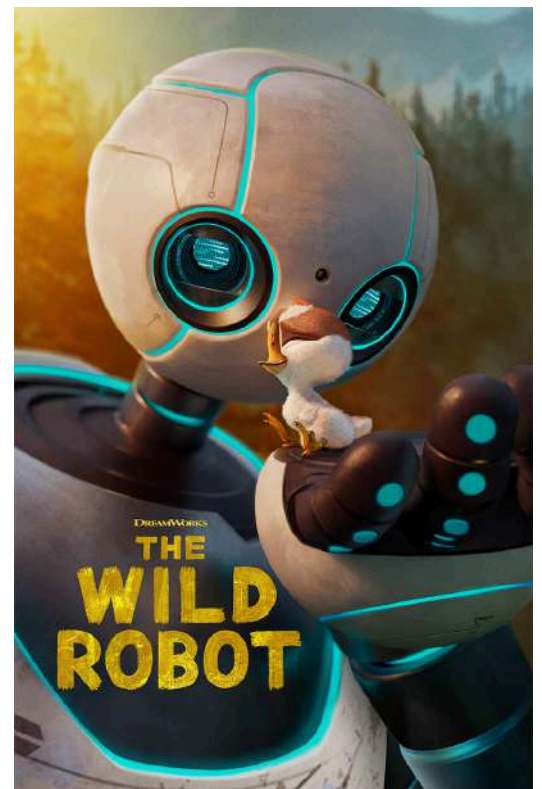

To wrap the plot in a nutshell, Edmond Dantès (played by Pierre Niney) falls victim to a nefarious scheme. He is arrested on his wedding day for a crime he did not commit and is imprisoned on the remote island of Château d'If, where he devises an escape plan. Once he gains wealth, he adopts the identity of the Count of Monte Cristo and seeks revenge on those who betrayed him.

This film is a masterpiece, showcasing beautiful scenes, incredible sets, and an engaging storyline. Despite the long 3h runtime, it succeeds at catching the attention of the viewer the whole time. Critics have praised it as well, giving it a 4.5/5 rating on Allociné and 7.4/10 on SensCritique.

The Wild Robot, premiered on October 9, 2024, directed by Chris Sanders—who is also known for classics like How to Train Your Dragon, The Lion King, and Tarzan, is a child-oriented animated feature. The main characters are voiced by Kit Connor, known for his starring role in the Netflix series Heartstopper, and Pedro Pascal, famous for his roles in The Last of Us, Game of Thrones, and The Mandalorian.

In a world filled with technological wonders, Roz, a helper robot, finds herself in a challenging predicament after crashing on an island. Programmed to assist those in need, she must care for a little egg. Roz soon discovers that her programming alone isn't enough to survive in the wild and nurture the egg.

Furthermore, the film boasts stunning animation, lovable characters, and an engaging storyline. It's an ideal choice for the whole family to enjoy!

The New Year is the perfect time to focus on your goals. According to a study by the American Psychological Association, regular moderate exercise can reduce stress by 30-40% and anxiety by 20-40% in adults.

Your diet plays a key role in your well-being, so don't hesitate to eat rich foods like nuts, oily fish rich for the omega-3 or citrus fruits rich in vitamin C. INTERVIEW

MRS AUDEMARD AND TRAVELS

INTRODUCE YOURSELF

Hi ! I'm Miss Audemard, I'm a SES teacher. I've been living in Pontoise for 4 years but I'm originally from the Ardèche. I was transferred to Pontoise 5 years ago but before asking for Pissarro I was in a different high school. I asked for Pissarro because it is a great place and so that I could join my friends (Pissarro teachers that I had met outside of school)!

DO YOU LIKE TRAVELLING ? IF YES, DO YOU OFTEN TRAVEL ?

Yes I love travelling for many reasons, like discovering new cultures or new lands. Actually, I often travel thanks to my job but for the moment it's not really big trips. It's rather limited to Europe, so rather shorts trips. I have visited a lot of European capitals like Bruges (with Miss Donzé). I went to Budapest with some friends during their Erasmus year, it was really great. I also went to Prague, Malta, Cyprus, London, Albania... Right now, I prefer the South of Europe but actually Northern countries attract me as well. I love open spaces as I like hiking. I would like to hike in Norway, that's something that I haven't done yet !

WHAT WAS YOUR FAVOURITE TRIP ?

My favorite destination was Canada. I went there for a month. I did a road trip, it was amazing ! I visited different cities like Montréal or Québec but I also visited the giant national park. And I think I love both, nature and also big towns. I even saw some whales! The experience was very disorienting. People there love French people, so they were very nice. I was a student back then, so I went in June and it was the ideal period, flight tickets were not too expensive, there were whales, the weather was nice. I didn't go to the United States, I stayed in the North of Canada (I went to Tadoussac the place of whales).

So I really loved this journey for all these reasons.

WHAT IS YOUR DREAM DESTINATION? ^ WHAT TYPE OF TRIP? WITH WHO?

My dream destination is South America like Peru. My dream is to go to the Machu Picchu (my dream is that someone asks me to marry him there). Columbia and Mexico attract me as well. I think if I end up going, it would be for a road trip because it's my favourite kind of travelling. I love to move, I can't stay at the same place, I just want to visit all the things there are to visit! For me it's the goal of a trip, just move around to visit everything, see the different cultures.. And small piece of advice: be careful with whom you travel, because sometimes people don't see trips like you, we don't always have the same desires.

I haven't found THE travel partner yet but I'm keen on travelling alone, meeting other people or discovering a new way to travel but I'm scared to feel too lonely because I only speak French

Lee Miller

ABOUT

LEE MILLER

Elizabeth "Lee" Miller, Lady Penrose (April 23, 1907 – July 21, 1977), was an American photographer and photojournalist. Miller was also a fashion model in New York City in the 1920s before going to Paris, becoming a fashion and fine-art photographer there. During World War II, she became a war correspondent for Vogue, covering events such as the London Blitz, the liberation of Paris and the concentration camps at Buchenwald and Dachau.

Her reputation as a fully-fledged artist is mostly thanks to her son's discovery and promotion of her work as a fashion and war photographer.

*"I would rather take a photograph
than be one."*

"I looked like an angel, but I was a fiend inside."

She started her career with modeling for her brothers by posing nude at a young age. She got noticed at 19 by a Vogue worker who helped her start her career because she was what the Vogue editor wanted at that moment. During her career as a model, she started to get interested in photography and started taking shots of herself or friends. She then insisted to join World War II as a photographer to expose the truth behind this war and the acts that were committed. She was joined by David E. Sherman and together they made sure to capture all the aspects of the war.

LEE MILLER'S CAREER AS A WAR REPORTER

Lee Miller was a war reporter who captured the reality of the Second World War and showed the impact of the violence on civilians through her pictures.

Famous photo taken by David Scherman, during the last days of the WW2 in the house of Hitler

In 1940, Lee Miller lived in London and was working for British Vogue as a fashion photographer. But after a long debate, in 1942, she got accredited by the US Army in order to report the war. Lee Miller is one of the rare women who was present on the war front. After the landing in Normandy (1944), she went to document and take photos of the war in Europe even if the American officers didn't agree.

In August 1944, she witnessed the liberation of Normandy after June 6 1944; D-Day.

In 1945, she discovered the horror of the concentration camps while visiting Dachau.

Her friend, David Scherman, a photographer for LIFE magazine, was the one who helped her the most. He joined her along with a group of Allies who were heading over to Germany.

On the 30th of April 1945, she arrived in Munich and stayed with her partner at Hitler's private apartment. This led to one of her most striking works. Indeed, she decided to photograph herself taking a bath in Hitler's bathroom while wiping her boots of mud from Dachau concentration camp that she had seen just before that. On the same day, Hitler committed suicide.

She was one of the first to reveal the horrors of the war by taking a photo of two soldiers opening the door of a wagon filled with piled-up corpses, in April 1945 at Dachau concentration camp.

Her reports and photographs were published in Vogue magazine, in both the American and the British editions. After the war, Lee Miller stayed in Europe and continued taking photos. She also documented the consequences of the war on the civilians such as women and children.

She took photos of every aspect of the war, and all of the atrocities committed during it. She also commented all of her photos, which helped people become aware of the reality of the war. After her death, no less than 60,000 photographs were found in boxes. Those photographs provide precious archives for historians.

Lee Miller

SYMBOL OF FEMINISM

Lee Miller, despite her time, fought for her rights and always did what she wanted to do. She first started as a nude model because women were mostly included in the art field only thanks to their body.. However she had creative eyes and had the talent to convey important messages as a woman working for British Vogue during the war or as a war photographer in France and Germany.

Lee Miller showed people the conditions of camps conditions after the liberation . She only captured the reality to share with everyone what was really happening in Germany because of the Nazis .She was one of the only women to visit camps after the liberation. It had a big impact on her and was one of the reasons she turned to alcohol.

Lee Miller was with the American soldiers during the liberation of France. She arrived in St Malo, a town in Brittany that was occupied by Germans and had been freed by the Americans. So, she took photographs of fights but also of civilians. Here, women in the middle were considered as traitors and suspected of collaborate. They were therefore humiliated their skulls were shaved and they were dragged in front of the crowd. Lee Miller illustrate the horrors of war through photography, she was the only photoreporter during the liberation of ST-Malo.

She showed French women's conditions during this horrible period. Even after the liberation, prejudices were still present. These women were most of the time very young and just wanted a little bit of love during this period.
